

ROCC

PRESS CUTTINGS

MAY 1997

Extract from
Brighton Evening Argus - E. Sussex

- 2 MAY 1997

TASTY BYTE: Coun Betty Walshe and ROCC's chairman Michael Aldrich

Betty puts company on line

THE new mayor of Brighton and Hove, Coun Betty Walshe, has officially opened the Brighton offices of ROCC, the Crawley-based computer company.

The offices at Stanford Gate, Preston Village, are the headquarters of the firm's international systems divisions.

ROCC is a private company that has been in the information technology industry for 27 years, initially as a computer hardware manufacturer and since 1990 as a computer software and services company.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS
CUTTING BUREAU

Extract from:
CRAWLEY & DISTRICT
OBSERVER
-Sussex-
(circ. 17,635)

30 APR 1997

AWARD - Keith Bankes, Janet Fox, Michael Aldrich and Kevin O'Neill

ROCC says thanks Jan

LOYAL worker Janet Fox has proved she is a prized asset for a leading Crawley computer firm.

ROCC, of Maxwell Way, Manor Royal, have rewarded Janet of Gossops Green, for her 15 years service to the company.

Michael Aldrich, chairman and chief executive, was on hand to present Janet with an engraved brass carriage clock, a long service certificate and a bouquet of flowers.

Keith Bankes, technical services director, and Kevin O'Neill, financial controller, joined Mr Aldrich in thanking Janet for all her hard work.

Janet, a grandmother, has lived in Crawley for 26 years with her husband Ray, a retired police officer.

Extract from
Brighton Evening Argus - Sussex

19 MAY 1997

CUTTING: MP Moffatt, Michael Aldrich middle, ROCC chairman, and Coun Smith

Computer firm base is opened

COMPUTER company ROCC's new Crawley base, on the Manor Royal business estate, was officially opened by the town's mayor Coun Jim Smith.

ROCC took over the 17,500sq ft air conditioned facility, which is equipped with high technology production equipment for the manufacture and servicing of electronic systems and assemblies, in February.

The opening was also attended by Crawley's new MP Laura Moffatt.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS
CUTTING BUREAU

Extract from:
CRAWLEY & DISTRICT
OBSERVER

-Sussex-
(circ. 17,635)

COMPUTER firm ROCC Computers will be hoping to grab an even bigger slice of the action after moving to a new Crawley base.

Moffatt officially opened the new headquarters in Maxwell Way, Manor Royal. Michael Aldrich, managing director, helped cut the cake to celebrate the